[In consequence of the number of foreign visitors to the city of Chicago during the year 1893, many of whom have made enquiries relating to this College, a limited edition of this Announcement has been issued in the French language. Applications for these should be addressed to the Secretary of the College.]

ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

1893-4.

Rush Medical College, of the City of Chicago, is one of the oldest chartered institutions of learning in the Northwest. It was founded half a century ago by the late Daniel Brainerd, who was its first President. He was succeeded in turn by Presidents J. V. Z. Blaney, Joseph W. Freer, J. Adams Allen, and the present incumbent of the office.

The first structure erected for its use was a small building situated in the North Division of the city, which was succeeded at a later date by a large and commodious building, completely destroyed by the Chicago fire in the year 1871. A temporary amphitheatre was then built in the South Division of the city and occupied for four succeeding years, when the present building was completed, which has since been regularly employed for the annual courses and clinical instruction of the College. During these years of activity this institution has given a medical education to more than five thousand physicians now settled in every part of the United States and in other countries. The College has constantly aimed to furnish the best practical instruction, and has steadily progressed to a point where its educational facilities are generally recognized as equal to any in the country.

NEW LABORATORY BUILDING.

To increase further the teaching facilities of the College, the Trustees and Faculty have erected a large building according to the most approved plans, devoted to laboratory purposes, containing rooms for special instruction in chemistry, physiology, bacteriology, pathology, and materia medica, all of which are fitted with the best apparatus and means for teaching and original research. The rooms formerly used for laboratory purposes in the original college building, are now employed for clinical purposes, thus greatly increasing the facilities afforded by the College for this important part of its work.

ANNUAL LIMITATION.

The statements made below as to conditions, fees, and courses of lectures, relate to the year ending May 23, 1894 only, and are applicable to all students without regard to the time of a first or any subsequent matriculation. Changes in the corps of instructors and curriculum of the College are made at any time when it seems to the Trustees necessary and desirable.

COURSE.

The Fifty-first Annual Course of Lectures begins Tuesday evening, September 26th, 1893, and closes on commencement day, May 23d, 1894.

VACATIONS

The Christmas vacation will begin December 23d and include January 2d, but during this time the clinics and laboratory work will continue without intermission. The Summer vacation begins Thursday, May 24th, and ends Tuesday, September 25th.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Students who begin their course of studies in this College are required to furnish, as testimonials of sufficient preliminary education, a diploma from a literary or scientific college, academy, or high school; or a teacher's certificate of the first grade. Students who cannot furnish evidence of a sufficient preliminary education, are admitted on condition of passing an examination in writing in the branches of a good English education, including Algebra as far as equations of the second degree, the first book of Geometry, English Composition, Elementary Physics, and Rhetoric. These requirements for admission will be increased from year to year. An acquaintance with the elements of Latin and of Mental Philosophy, and a more extended knowledge of Algebra and of Geometry, will soon be required.

Examinations for admission are held during the first week of the course.

Graduates in medicine and students who desire to pursue a special course without graduation, are admitted without preliminary examination.

Candidates from other recognized medical schools who wish to enter advanced classes in the College must furnish satisfactory evidence of preliminary education, and pass satisfactory examinations in the branches required of the members of the classes to which they seek admission. Graduates of Lake Forest University Science Course for students intending to study medicine, and of similar courses in the University of Chicago, Cornell University, Haverford College, University of Illinois, University of Indiana, Johns Hopkins University, University of Kansas, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Northwestern University, University of Notre Dame, Ohio Wesleyan University, University of Pennsylvania, Princeton University, Swarthmore College, Tulane University, Wabash College, West Virginia University, University of Wisconsin, Yale University, and of other schools offering an equivalent course of study, are admitted without examination or previous medical study to the second year i. e., the first of the three required lecture courses in Rush Medical College.

PRELIMINARY EDUCATION.

The standard of preliminary education required for admission to the best medical schools of this country is with each year made more imperative and comprehensive. That which will eventually be accepted in lieu of a degree as Bachelor of Arts or in science, is the standard required for admission to the sophomore class in the Lake Forest University and institutions of similar grade.

STATE LAWS.

Each matriculate must study medicine four years and take three courses of lectures of at least five months each, as required in Illinois, and six months each in Iowa, before he can begin the practice of medicine in these States without passing a rigid examination before the State Board of Health.

No graduate can enter upon the practice of medicine in Minnesota, Washington, New Jersey, North Dakota, Florida, Alabama, or Montana unless he pass a rigid examination before the State Boards. No graduate is admitted before these boards for examination unless he have attended three courses of lectures of six months each. No one can practice medicine in New York, Virginia, South Carolina, or North Carolina without passing an examination before the State Board, nor in Mississippi without passing an examination by a County Board of Medical Censors. Other States will probably soon enact similar laws.

INSTRUCTION.

Instruction in this College is given in graded courses by clinical and didactic lectures; by practical work in the laboratories, dissecting room, and dispensary; and by oral recitation of lessons assigned by the faculty. It continues through four terms of eight months each, attendance on three terms being obligatory.

At the end of their second course, students will be admitted to final examinations in Descriptive Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Therapeutics, Dental Pathology and Surgery, Bacteriology, Hygiene, and Medical Jurisprudence.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR NON-RESIDENT STUDENTS THE FIRST YEAR.

Non-resident students, who are taking the first of the four required years of study under a preceptor at home, are advised to adopt the following course:

1. Elementary physics; text book, Gage's Physics.
2. Elementary chemistry; text book, Remsen's Chemistry.
3. Physiology, circulation and respiration; text book, Waller's or Kirk's Physiology.

4. Practical study of the bones, with Gray's Anatomy.

Any other recent text books on physics, chemistry, and physiology may be used if the student already has them.

In addition to the subjects above named, the elements of Latin are recommended to those who have no knowledge of that language. Harkness' First Book in Latin is an acceptable text book.

COURSE OF STUDY IN COLLEGE.

Students are advised to pursue their studies during the entire four terms in this school according to the following schedule. With a view to instruction by means of recitations, they are advised to obtain the text books recommended on another page.

FIRST YEAR.

PRACTICAL CHEMISTRY.

Largely increased facilities will be afforded in the new Laboratory building for the study of Practical Chemistry. The course consists of an extended series of tests and experiments, chiefly designed to illustrate the application of Chemistry to Practical Medicine, especial attention being given to the subject of the examination of the urine.

PRACTICAL ANATOMY.

The new Laboratory Building affords increased advantages for the practical study of Anatomy in all its branches. Material in abundance is provided, with the most recent and approved means of illustrations.

PRACTICAL PHYSIOLOGY, BACTERIOLOGY, AND PATHOLOGY.

The new Laboratories of Physiology, Bacteriology, and Pathology are well supplied with microscopes and other necessary apparatus.

PRACTICAL SURGERY UPON THE CADAVER.

The course in Operative Surgery, required for graduation, is given by the Professor of Practice of Surgery. Members of the class practice upon the cadaver the principal operations.

PRACTICAL OBSTETRICS.

The Maternity Pavilion adjacent to the College was established by the Presbyterian Hospital. In it during the past year every member of the senior class had an opportunity to witness, and assist in, deliveries under the instruction of the obstetrical staff of the hospital and College.

OBSTETRICAL MANIPULATIONS

are taught by means of the manikin and cadaver, as one of the requirements of graduation, in special courses by the Professor of Clinical Obstetrics.

AUSCULTATION AND PERCUSSION.

Under the direction of Professor Ingals a thorough course of practical lessons in Auscultation and Percussion is given by Dr. Corwin, demonstrator of Physical Diagnosis.

PRACTICAL MATERIA MEDICA AND THERAPEUTICS.

The Physiological and Toxicological effects of the most important drugs are demonstrated on the lower animals.

Students are made familiar with these medicines by actual manipulation, and are taught the methods of making all of their ordinary preparations.

CLINICAL PRACTICE.

Students in their senior year are given the care of clinical out-patients.

CLINICAL INSTRUCTION IN THE COLLEGE BUILDING.

ALL CLINICS CONTINUE THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, DURING VACATION AS WELL AS TERM TIME.

SURGERY.

SURGICAL CLINICS are given by Professor Senn on Tuesday and Thursday, and by Professor Hamilton on Saturday, at two o'clock P. M. During the past year over one thousand patients were treated in these clinics, covering the whole field of practical surgery, including amputations, laparotomies, operations on the brain, etc.

MEDICINE.

Professor Lyman holds a clinic on INTERNAL MEDICINE and on the DISEASES OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM, every Monday and Thursday at 10 A. M.

DISEASES OF CHILDREN.

A special clinic on DISEASES OF CHILDREN is given every Friday at two o'clock, by Professor Cotton.

GYNECOLOGY.

Professor Etheridge and Dr. Adolphus hold daily clinics in the College building, for the special instruction of the graduating class in CLINICAL GYNECOLOGY.

The class is subdivided into sections, so that each student has opportunities for the practical study of this subject, in the Central Free Dispensary.

An operating clinic is held each Thursday in the amphitheatre, by Professor Etheridge, at 9 A. M.

SKIN AND VENEREAL DISEASES.

Professor Hyde, assisted by Dr. F. H. Montgomery, holds a clinic on SKIN, VENEREAL, AND GENITO-URINARY DISEASES at 3 P. M. every Monday and Friday throughout the year. An extensive collection of plates and photographs is arranged in cabinets, on the same floor and adjacent to the amphitheatre, with special view to the illustration of this department.

DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR.

Professor Holmes, with the assistance of Dr. Alfred Hinde, holds a clinic at 3 P. M. every Wednesday throughout the year, on DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR.

Professor Ingals, assisted by Drs. John Edwin Rhodes, J. J. Tuthill, C. J. Whalen, and H. B. Hemenway, holds a clinic on DISEASES OF THE NOSE, THROAT, AND CHEST at 2 P. M. every Wednesday.

Unusual facilities are afforded for the study of these diseases.

THE CENTRAL FREE DISPENSARY,

which occupies the first floor of the College building, affords opportunities to students and practitioners for clinical instruction. More than fifteen thousand patients received treatment the past twelvemonth. Patients are classified according to their diseases, thus supplying a wide field for the study of spécial departments of medicine.

THE PRESBYTERIAN HOSPITAL

was erected at a total expense of a quarter of a million of dollars. It accommodates two hundred and fifty patients, and adds largely to the clinical advantages of the College. Nineteen hundred and eleven patients were treated at the hospital during the past year.

The late Prof. J. Adams Allen donated his large and valuable library to the Presbyterian Hospital for the special service of the Staff. It may be used, by the permission of the superintendent, for reference by members of the profession and by students of the College.

Donations of medical works, especially of bound volumes of journals, are solicited, with the understanding, if duplicates are received, that they may be exchanged by the Hospital authorities for works not in the library. Address the Librarian of the Presbyterian Hospital.

Alumni are requested to inform the Secretary, Professor Etheridge, of any change of address.

They will also confer a favor by sending to Mr. Gould, Clerk of the College, a copy of any address, programme, or other document relating to the early history of the College. Announcements for the years 1854-5 and 1860-61 are desired.

For the purpose of collecting the material for a complete semi-centennial Catalogue of the College, its alumni are requested to send to the Secretary, with their names and addresses, the degrees, honorary or other, conferred upon them since graduation, and the titles of any official positions they may have filled under either the United States or any State Government, or in connection with any Medical School or University. This catalogue will be published in 1894.

The Presbyterian Hospital of the City of Chicago.

S. E. COR. WEST CONGRESS AND WOOD STREETS.

Telephone No. West 189.

The main building of this hospital—the Daniel A. Jones Memorial—was dedicated and opened for patients April 22d, 1889. It is a fire-proof structure, with all modern appliances for the treatment of the sick and injured. With the wings, previously erected, the hospital has cost nearly a quarter of a million of dollars.

The hospital, though under the direction of the Presbyterian Churches of Chicago, has been constructed and furnished by interested friends for the purpose of providing medical attendance and care for the sick, without reference to religious belief or race, and is open for the treatment of general as well as special medical and surgical diseases. Contagious diseases are excluded.

The money already contributed has been expended for the land, building, and furniture. There are scarcely any funds—except the sums which certain churches have contributed for their poor—remaining for the support of patients. Until the Board of Managers secure means to maintain free beds, the hospital must be supported by money received for the board of patients. It is necessary for indigent patients, who wish to secure medical attendance at this hospital, to obtain means to pay their board from the neighborhood in which they live, or from the religious or secular organizations to which they belong.

Such patients are required, on entering the hospital, to deposit with the Superintendent, in advance, money for a month's board, also the cost of their fare home. Advances must be made from time to time, if required. All balances will be returned to patients when they leave the institution.

RATES.—The price of private rooms, including board and nursing, varies, according to their size and location, from $12.00 to $20.00 a week.

The price of a bed in the wards, including board, nursing, washing, and medicine is $8.00 to $10.00 per week. Extra charges will be made in all cases requiring SPECIAL nursing.

Unless patients have made arrangements by previous correspondence or otherwise, with a member of the Hospital Staff, they will be required, on entering the hospital, to present a certificate from a clergyman or some reputable person in their locality, stating that they are unable to pay for treatment.

As far as possible, patients wishing treatment at the hospital should address all letters of inquiry to the Superintendent, and should also describe the nature of their illness.

All patients should bring a change of underclothing.

Remittances should be made by draft or by P. O. order.

For further particulars, apply to July 1, 1893.

H. B. STEHMAN, M. D.,

Medical Superintendent.

LAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY

COMPRISES THE FOLLOWING DEPARTMENTS AND SCHOOLS.

UNDERGRADUATE DEPARTMENT—Located at Lake Forest, comprises Lake Forest College, Ferry College (for Young Ladies), Ferry Hall Seminary (for Girls), and Lake Forest Academy (for Boys).

PROFESSIONAL DEPARTMENTS—The Medical, Dental, and Law Faculties, located at Chicago, comprise Rush Medical College, Chicago College of Dental Surgery, and Chicago College of Law. The Philosophical Faculty, located at Lake Forest, offers Post-Graduate Courses.

Lake Forest is situated on the shore of Lake Michigan, twenty-eight miles from the city of Chicago. Its site occupies the highest elevation of land along the lake between Chicago and Milwaukee. The town was originally laid out as a park, and is entirely devoted to residences and the University buildings. The charter prohibits the sale of all alcoholic beverages and its provisions are rigidly enforced by public sentiment. Hourly communication by rail is made with Chicago. Lake Forest thus combines the advantages of residence in a city with those of an attractive and healthful resort.

For Catalogue, or further information regarding the examinations, or any department of the University, address,

PRESIDENT JOHN M. COULTER,

LAKE FOREST, ILLINOIS.
